

Values of Advising & Testing

In order to develop a new mission statement for Advising & Testing, we first need to identify the core values that lead our work. Review the list of values below and think about what identifies with your personal values, what identifies with the values of the work you do, and what values you would like to see at our core. There are no wrong answers. Select up to 5 values that are/should be integral to the work we do in Advising & Testing at Pikes Peak State College.

* This form will record your name, please fill your name.
